

Kris Findley, MSU IAC's former staff engineer, completed a Masters of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering in December 2003. Kris has recently completed his new employee training at Memphis Light, Gas and Water and he is now officially an energy engineer with MLGW.

